THE SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE,

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

MONDAY, April 8th, 1745. [Numb. 576]

His Majeſty's Moſt Gracious SPEECH to both Houſes of Parliament, on Tueſday November 27th.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is always a great Satisfaction to me to meet you in Parliament, and it is particularly ſo at this Conjuncture, as the preſent Poſture of Affairs abroad requires your moſt ſerious Conſideration. The Events of the laſt Summer have been ſo various, and ſome Things have fallen out during the Courſe of it, ſo much to the Diſadvantage of the Common Cauſe, the Conſequences whereof remain ſtill undecided, that great Attention muſt be given to them, and proper Meaſures taken for preventing or removing the ill Effects of them.

I have, in Purſuance of your repeated Advice, exerted my Endeavours for the Support of the Houſe of Auſtria, and in the Proſecution of the juſt and neceſſary War, in which we are engaged. The Queen of Hungary, who is attacked, and invaded by Powers, from whom ſhe had the leaſt Reaſon to expect ſuch a Conduct, has ſhewn the greateſt Conſtancy and Reſolution; and the King of Poland purſuant to his Engagements with her, hath ſent a very conſiderable Force to her Aſſiſtance. The King of Sardinia, with a Magnanimity, and Firmneſs ſuperior to the greateſt Difficulties, has, with the Aſſiſtance of my Fleet, reſiſted the combined Forces of France and Spain, ſent againſt him, and at laſt, happily defeated an Enterprize formed for his Deſtruction, and for the Reduction of Italy, as well as moſt of the Ports in the Mediterranean, under the Power of the Houſe of Bourbon. Tho' our Succeſs has not been anſwerable to our Wiſhes, yet the vaſt Expectations and Deſigns of our Enemies, built upon new Intrigues and Alliances, and an additional Strength, have not hitherto taken Place, and will, I hope, by the Bleſſing of God, and the mutual Vigour of Great Britain, and her Allies, be diſappointed. In Conjunction with them, and with their effectual Aſſiſtance, and your Support I am determined to carry on the War in ſuch a Manner, as may be moſt conducive to that important End, which is my ſole Aim, a ſafe and honourable Peace; it being my firm Reſolution, never to abandon my Allies, and to procure the utmoſt Security to the Religion, Liberties and Commerce of my Kingdoms.

For this Purpoſe, I have always inſiſted, and am ſtill endeavouring with my Allies, particularly my good Friends the States General of the United Provinces, to fix the certain Proportion of Forces and Expence, to be furniſhed by each of the Confederates, in the Proſecution of this juſt and neceſſary War.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the Eſtimates for the Service of the enſuing Year to be prepared, and laid before you, and deſire you to grant me ſuch Supplies, as ſhall be requiſite for the Security and Welfare of the Nation, and for carrying on ſuch Meaſures, as it ſhall be neceſſary for Great-Britain to purſue in the preſent extraordinary Criſis. I am deeply ſenſible of, and concerned for the Burthens, which lie upon my good Subjects; and you may be aſſured, that no Endeavours ſhall be wanting on my part to eaſe them in every Inſtance, where the Conſequences of doing ſo, may not endanger their own Intereſts.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I have laid before you my Views and Intentions. Your Concurrence with me, in a ſteady Purſuit of them, will beſt manifeſt your Zeal for the common Cauſe, lay the ſureſt Foundation for the real Support of our Allies, and for the Security and Proſperity of your Country: And nothing can add ſo much to the Weight and Efficacy of your Reſolutions, as Unanimity and Diſpatch.

On Wedneſday the 28th, The Lords preſented their Addreſs as follows, to His Majeſty.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual in Temporal and Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return your Majeſty our humble Thanks for your moſt gracious Speech from the Throne.

Our Zeal for your Majeſty, the Love of our Country, and our anxious Regard for the Welfare and Liberties of Europe, have made us look, with the utmoſt Concern, on thoſe Events which have fallen out, during the laſt Summer, to the Diſadvantage of the Common Cauſe. And our Surprize is not leſs, when we conſider the Part, which has been taken by ſome Powers, ſo contrary to their own true and eſſential Intereſt. The neceſſity of taking proper Meaſures to prevent or remove the Effects of theſe Events, is apparent; and no Endeavours ſhall be wanting in us to obviate them.

We have ſeen, with the utmoſt Satisfaction, not only your Majeſty's Magnanimity and Zeal in the Proſecution of the juſt and neceſſary War, wherein we are engaged, but alſo the Conſtancy and Firmneſs ſhewn by the Queen of Hungary and the King of Sardinia under the greateſt Difficulties. The Diſappointment of an Enterprize form'd for the Deſtruction of the latter, as well as for reducing Italy under the Dominion of the Houſe of Bourbon, is of great Importance to this Nation; ſince, if ſuch a Deſign had ſucceeded, it muſt have been attended with fatal Conſequences to the Trade and Navigation of your Majeſty's Subjects in the Mediterranean.

We acknowledge, with the greateſt Thankfulneſs, your Majeſty's Wiſdom and Goodneſs in declaring to your Parliament, that you are determined to carry on War, in Conjunction with your Allies, and with effectual Aſſiſtance, in ſuch a Manner as may be moſt conducive to a ſafe and honourable Peace. In making this deſirable End your ſole Aim, your Majeſty ſhews a juſt Senſe of true Glory and a tender Regard, not only for your Subjects, but extended to the reſt of Europe.

As your Majeſty's Reſolution, never to abandon your Allies, muſt be an additional Encouragement to them, ſtrictly to perform their Engagements with your Majeſty, ſo your Paternal Care to procure the utmoſt Security to the Religion, Liberties, and Commerce of your Kingdoms, cannot fail to excite in the Hearts of all your faithful Subjects, the warmeſt Affection and Duty to your ſacred Perſon, and Zeal for your Defence and Support.

It is with real Satisfaction we receive your Majeſty's Declaration, that you are actually endeavouring with your Allies, particularly the States General of the United Provinces, the ancient and natural Friends of this Nation, to adjuſt the Proportions of Forces and Expence to be born by each of the Confederates in the War. Such a Concert will be the Baſis of great Utility and Advantage to the Common Cauſe.

We are truly ſenſible of your Majeſty's Goodneſs, in laying before us theſe your ſalutary Views and Intentions; and we do, with the greateſt Zeal and Firmneſs, aſſure your Majeſty, that we are fully determined to ſupport you in the ſteady Proſecution of them, in carrying on ſuch Meaſures, as it ſhall be neceſſary for Great Britain to purſue in this critical Conjuncture.

May the Divine Providence proſper your Majeſty's Councils and Arms with Succeſs equal to the Juſtice of your Cauſe. For our part, we beg Leave to give

give your Majesty the strongest Assurances, that we have the Honour and Safety of your Majesty, the Security and true Interest of your Kingdoms, and the happy Issue of this just and necessary War, entirely at Heart; and will, at the Hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, stand by and defend your Majesty, your Royal Family, and Government, against the ambitious and destructive Designs of France, and of any other Power, that shall attempt to attack or disturb them.

His Majesty's most gracious Answer.

My Lords,

I Heartily thank your for this dutiful and affectionate Address. The Zeal, which you have so seasonably expressed for my Person and Government, for carrying on this just and necessary War, and for the vigorous Support of all my Allies, gives me the greatest Satisfaction: and your Unanimity in doing this, cannot fail to add greatly to the good Effects of it, both at Home and Abroad.

The Commons Address ran in the same Stile, and concluded That his Majesty might depend on their ready and chearful Assistance.
